A freight car grazed the end of a street car last midnight at Sixth West and First South street, through the mistaking of signals by the crew of the freight train. No one was hurt.

A dispatch from Washington says that the two light batteries of artillery now at Fort Douglas, the Twelfth and Nineteenth, have been transferred to Fort D. A. Russell near Cheyenne.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting tomorrow afternoon will be addressed by Rev. P. A. Simpkins on "The Message of Christmas," and William Blum will address the boys' meeting later on "The First Christmas." First Sergeant Schmidt of the Twelfth light battery was notified yesterday by the chief of ordnance at Washing-ton, that he had successfully passed his examination for the position of post ordnance sergeant.

A. E. Pomeroy of Los Angeles is the purchaser of the McIrcuplitan hotel property in this city. He has taken an option on 66x723 feet south of the county poor house, the consideration being $18,-000, and the time being one year.

Herbert Burdett, formerly a New York Herald reporter, and now secre-tary of the Los Angeles realty board, was married Thursday evening at Og-den, to Miss Edith G. Tomlinson, and they are now guests at the Kenyon. The Salt Lake stockyards are busy shipping horses to Los Angeles for use by the contractors on the new line of waterworks to be built from the mountains to the city, 220 miles, and which will call for a big outlay for men, teams and construction material. A musical curiosity in this city is a piano interior consisting of the steel frame and full set of strings set in an upright case and connected with an automatic mechanism that plays it with orchestral percussion instruments. The combination is known as the concerto piano. Secretary of State Tingey has mailed notices to the 148 insurance companies doing business in this state calling for their annual reports which must be filed by the close of the insurance year which is Feb. 28. Of the total number of companies doing business here 145 are foreign and three are home corpora-

The First Methodist church is now all under roof, the Campanile is built, and the interior is so far along as to show that the congregation will have excellent facilities for church and Sun-day school work. The old First Presbyterian church across the street is being rapidly transformed into a twostory business block, Electrical toys are being pushed on the market, and find admirers among the market, and find admirers among not only children, but among grown folks. A special feature in this field seems to be a top that is made to spin through the agency of the electrical current, and a galvanic battery that makes the arms tingle. Human ingenuity as displayed along this line is outle noticeable. guite noticeable.

The elevator at the city and county building presents an attractive and ap propriate appearance these days in view of the approaching season. The opera-tor, William Langenbacker, has tastefully decorated the interior of the car with evergreens, holly and Christmas bells and has placed a placard in a prominent place bearing the customary greetings of the season.

An Italian named Vito Calorich at-tempted to cross the Los Angeles track Thursday, on Fourth West street, in front of an approaching passenger train. He was struck by the cowcatcher and thrown to one isde, with his head badly cut. The sufferer was sent to St. Mark's hospital where it was found necessary to sew up several gaping gashes. The man had a close escape from death.

John Larsen, an employe at the Z. C. John Larsen, an employe at the 2. C. M. I. warehouse on the west side, had his foot crushed yesterday, while operating the elevator. He suddenly stepped backward, without notleing where he was stepping, and before he was aware of it, the foot was caught between the bottom of the elevator between the bottom of the elevator and the floor above and badly crushed. He was taken for treatment to the L. D. S. hospital.

FRANK W. PICKARD, Popular Young Musician Who Died During Week From Appendicitis.

It was with profound sorrow that the many friends of Frank W. Pickard, the young Salt Lake pianist, learned of his death from appendicitis on Tuesday last. While he was but twen-ty years of age he had made excellent progress in his chosen profession and was in every way a promising young man. He was also a student at the University of Utah where he was pur-University of Utah where he was pursuing with good results a course in electrical engineering. From the first the attack of the disease that claimed him was very severe and nothing that fond parents, scientific treatment or kind nursing could do, was able to stay the fatal hand that was laid upon him.
